We are delighted to invite you to submit artwork to the Balfour Project's first virtual art exhibition on the theme of "mapping" in Mandatory Palestine.

This is an opportunity for Palestinians to showcase their work in an international setting.

If you are a Palestinian artist and would like your work to be featured in an exhibition in May 2021, then please read the following proposal.

If you have any questions please don't hesitate to get in touch and we look forward to receiving your submissions.
We are hosting a virtual art exhibition centred around homeland, identity and British colonialism in Mandaroty Palestine. The online exhibition will comprise art submitted by Palestinian artists focusing around the theme of “mapping”. The audience will be able to virtually walk around the exhibition, click on the art to view it in more detail and purchase the art if they desire. We will have a launch night with guest speakers, including academics, activists and artists.

WHY IS THIS PROJECT IMPORTANT?

The majority of Britons today are ignorant of Britain’s colonial role in Palestine and its impact on the current reality. We believe that this is one of the key reasons why people choose not to engage with this issue. We want to raise awareness of the ongoing occupation in order to pressure the British Government to take responsibility for their historic role. We are using art to articulate the struggle for human rights because it is an accessible format through which the British public can engage.

1. OUR AIMS

POPULAR EDUCATION
We want to educate the British public about the impact of British colonialism on Palestinians. This is fundamental in order to influence a change in British governmental policy.

RAISE AWARENESS
We want to facilitate a connection between Britain’s colonial role in Palestine and the current reality. This is crucial in acknowledging Britain’s historic and continuing responsibilities.

PROMOTE EQUALITY IN ART
We want to provide a voice to Palestinians that creates a safe space for their artistic expression. At the Balfour Project we are committed to upholding equal rights in the region and to do this we have a duty to provide a platform to those whose voices have been silenced.
We would like our artists to submit work around the theme of mapping. This theme has an explicit link to British colonialism and the way in which Palestinian territory has been contested and divided. In the Sykes-Picot Agreement 1916 Britain and France secretly agreed to carve up the Ottoman Empire without the consent of its indigenous peoples which delineated arbitrary borders with no regard to ethnic & religious groups. Maps define and concretise territory and are inherently political and contested. They create worlds and shape reality, legitimise and delegitimise populations. The fact that there is no appearance of Palestine on the hegemonic world map equates to denial of Palestinian existence & results in lack of awareness around the world of Palestine, its traditions and its history.

We encourage artists to consider the following issues relating to maps:

- How do maps reflect and shape identity?
- What is the connection between colonialism and cartography?
- How might the self be remapped in the absence of official global recognition of Palestine?
- What is the potential of maps to reshape the current reality?

Please note that these questions are not prescriptive and you may interpret the theme in whichever way you choose.

The Balfour Project is committed to acknowledging Britain’s historic and continuing responsibilities, through popular education and advocacy to uphold equal rights for the Israeli and Palestinian peoples and to persuade the British Government to recognise Palestine. The Balfour Project invites the government and people of the United Kingdom to understand the impact of the Balfour Declaration on ‘48 Palestine and acknowledge that whilst a homeland for the Jewish people has been achieved, the promise to protect the rights of the Palestinian people has not been fulfilled. We urge the people and elected representatives of the UK to take effective action to promote justice, security and peace for both peoples, as they historically promised.
